PROCEEDINGS AND DEBATES OF THE 87th CONGRESS, FIRST SESSION

Memorial to the Reverend John L. Deaton—Address by Theodore R. McKeldin

EXTENSION OF REMARKS

OF

HON. EDWARD A. GARMATZ

OF MARYLAND

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, June 26, 1961

Mr. GARMATZ. Mr. Speaker, very appropriately, Father's Day, June 18, was selected by the Adult Bible Classes of Christ Lutheran Church in my district in Baltimore, as an opportune time to memorialize a former pastor. The Reverend John L. Deaton, D.D., served as pastor of Christ Church for more than 25 years, but the impact of his ministry on his congregation and the community will remain as long as the church does.

The former Governor of Maryland, Theodore R. McKeldin, was privileged to be the speaker before the Adult Bible Classes on that occasion and I think his remarks will be of interest to all members of the Congress. Therefore, I wish to insert them in the Appendix for their perusal:

ADDRESS OF THEODORE R. MCKELDIN, CHRIST LUTHERAN CHURCH, ADULT BIBLE CLASSES, SUNDAY, JUNE 18, 1961

There could be no more fitting occasion than Fathers' Day for paying tribute to John LeRoy Deaton—father of a family, father of a flock, father of innumerable ideas to bless and better his community, he comes easily within the scope of the injunction in the Apochrypha, "Let us now praise famous men and the fathers that begat us."

Himself the son of a minister, he was the father of the Reverend L. Crosby Deaton, pastor of the Church of the Holy Comforter; of Dr. Hugh L. Deaton, resident in heart surgery at Duke University; and of Barbara Jane Deaton, now the wife of Dr. William Anderson, child specialist. Each of his children is in some way dedicated to the service of humanity, to ministry, either to the souls or to the bodies of men. So we can apply to him a verse of the song that Kipling wrote, beginning with the words I have quoted:

"Let us now praise famous men"—
Men of little showing—
For their work continueth,
And their work continueth,
Broad and deep continueth,
Greater than their knowing.

Certainly that is true of Dr. Deaton. Last week we dedicated a beautiful plaque to his memory; but in truth not merely the plaque, but this whole church is his monument; and we might write here as is written of the architect, Christopher Wren, in St. Paul's in London, "If you seek his monument, look around you." But even the church is not his finest monument; it is to be found in the lives of the thousands of men and women whom his influence touched, turning them toward a nobler and richer life; for although they may not be aware of it, in them his work—

"Broad and deep continueth,
Greater than their knowing."

We have developed in this country the pleasant custom of bringing gifts to father on this day. But the act is symbolic. It represents a gift far greater than any that we can contrive that God gave long ago to every father worthy of the name. That gift was the privilege of contributing to the State citizens who will add to its power and its glory. And to a few, of whom Dr. Deaton was a conspicuous example, that privilege is not confined to those of his own household. A few, as pastor, which means shepherd, or as pedagogue, which means companion of youth, become spiritual and intellectual fathers of great numbers of men and women whose early training makes them the strength and safety of the state.

But the function of the father of a family cannot be fulfilled within the four walls of the home, nor that of the father of a flock within those of the temple. The successful molder of men must himself be a man of heroic mold. He need not be illustrious in the eyes of the world, but he must be of true metal in the eyes of God. For though he may never speak the words, in effect every child says to every father, "What you are thunders so that I cannot hear what you say."

Dr. Deaton knew this, and, knowing it, he remained the man of God on Monday as unmistakably as he was when he stood in the pulpit on Sunday. He was criticized for it by some who seem to think that a man should abandon plain speech and adopt a different language when he goes into the sanctuary. So they accused him of secularizing the pulpit when from it he denounced the evil he had encountered on the street. But his critics were of the same mind as those courtiers who were enraged when the prophet, Nathan, pointed at the guilty king, proclaiming, "Thou art the man." Criticism of that kind, to the understanding, is an order of merit.

Moreover, it was characteristic of this man of God that his boldness and vigor in denouncing evil were matched, and overmatched, by the same qualities in defending good. Dr. Deaton preached "Thou shalt," as often as "Thou shalt not." If material proof of that were needed, this church supplies it. Without his leadership, a leadership as wise as it was energetic, this building would never have been erected, nor would its membership ever have climbed to 3,000.

But the church is only one demonstration, a sample, so to speak, of his work. Nothing that he believed tended to enrich the lives of his people was denied his sympathetic interest. It might have nothing whatever to do with creed or dogma. It might be educational, or cultural, or merely physical, but if it contributed to the welfare and happiness of the people, he was its ardent supporter.

He knew that this city is not land and houses, but the men, women, and children who inhabit it, and he knew that their welfare and happiness is the one object to which all others should be subordinated. He knew, also, that the great obstacles in the way of achieving this object are blind greed and inert stupidity. Therefore he judged that in taking a vigorous and intelligent interest in civic affairs he was about his Master's business no less than when he administered the sacraments. I am sure that I do not misrepresent him in asserting that as for his spiritual children he much preferred to see them honest and truthful, kindly and brave, than to see them letter perfect in the doctrines of Lutheranism.

Therefore he commanded the admiration and respect of honest men of all creeds while he lived; and now that he has gone to his reward they are happy to join in praising one whose work continueth, broad and deep, to the profit of us all, whether Greek or barbarian, bond, or free.

But that, while it is good, is not enough. Let us now praise famous men by all means, but let us not stop there. On this Father's Day, as we bring material gifts to a parent living and the gift of loving memory to one who is gone, let us not omit to pray to the giver of all good gifts for some share of the gift he gave to John LeRoy Deaton—the gift of being a wise and careful father to all his children, physical and spiritual, to the end that we, in turn, may give both to the kingdom of this world and to the kingdom of heaven men and women who shall be the support and stay of the earthly kingdom and sharers in the glory of the one that is to come.

For only so can we hope to discharge in full the duties of fatherhood, and gain the reward that men in time to come shall look upon our lives as we look upon that of the men whom we honor today. For the imperishable monument is not built of brick and stone, nor cast in bronze. It is carved in the hearts and memories of men and women, many not of our blood, and not even of our faith and creed, but nevertheless children of our Father in Heaven and our brothers on earth.

For although the modern poet spoke of "men of little showing," that applies to this world only. All the honors of this world are transient and many of them illusory. None of them is as real, as substantial, as is the honor of deserving what the old poet said of "the fathers that begat us." For, he continued, "The Lord hath wrought great glory by them, through His great power from the beginning," and can man attain to higher honor than to be the means of transmission through which the power of God hath wrought great glory in the earth?

But such men as Dr. Deaton do not go without their reward, even in this world. Nor is some share of it denied even to those of us who lack his great qualities of mind and heart if we share his determination to be what a father ought to be. On Father's Day, then, I counsel you to take with you the memory of what true fatherhood brings. For it is written:

"With their seed shall continually remain a good inheritance,
And their children are within the covenant.
Their seed standeth fast,
And their children for their sakes.
Their seed shall remain forever,
And their glory shall not be blotted out.
Their bodies are buried in peace;
But their name liveth forevermore."

MOOS LEADS FOR GOP POST

Hopkins Professor Choice Of Top Men For City Chairman

By CHARLES G. WHITEFORD

The Republican City Committee is expected to meet sometime next week—probably Monday or Wednesday—to elect a chairman to serve until after the primary, Charles A. Dorsey, treasurer, disclosed yesterday.

Dr. Malcolm C. Moos, professor of political science at the Johns Hopkins University, is the choice of the top leaders of the party.

Mr. Dorsey said that he knows only of "about a half-dozen" of the 42 committee members who are opposed to Dr. Moos. However, there may be a bitter fight within the committee before the voting takes place, it was learned from other sources.

Some Bypassed

Some of it may come from men within the party who had hoped to get juicy political plums from Governor McKeldin, but were bypassed in the patronage handout.

Mr. Dorsey sent letters to other members of the committee over the week-end indorsing Dr. Moos as "a real man qualified for the job and as one who has the confidence and good will of our Governor and our two United States senators."

The committee also will vote on a proposal for a radical change in the method of electing its members—a change designed to give the bigger wards more equal representation.

Present Makeup Outlined

At present, the committee (known for ballot purposes as the Baltimore City Republican State Central Committee) is made up of:

One elected executive for each of Baltimore's 28 wards.

One man and one woman chosen as representatives on the committee from each of the six legislative districts.

Two women representing the city at large.

A chairman elected by the other 41 committee members.

Changes Suggested

Under a resolution coming up for adoption at next week's meeting, committee members would be chosen in this manner:

Each ward would have at least one elected executive.

However, for ballot purposes, the Ninth, Fifteenth and Twenty-sixth Wards would be split into two voting units each, and the sprawling Twenty-seventh Ward would be divided into five units.

Each "big ward" unit would have an elected executive.

One Member Each

Legislative districts would have one member each, instead of a man and woman each.

The chairman would be elected by the other committee members as usual.

Sponsors feel this would divide membership on a more equitable basis and strengthen ward organizations.

If the resolution is adopted, the new system will be used in the June primary election.

JUBILEE CAKE—Dr. John L. Deaton cuts his twentieth anniversary cake as pastor of the Christ English Lutheran Church as his son, the Rev. L. Crosby Deaton, a Philadelphia, looks on.

Dr. Deaton Honored On 20th Anniversary As Pastor Here

More than 1,000 persons last night paid tribute to the Rev. Dr. John L. Deaton at a special service in observance of his twentieth anniversary as pastor of Christ English Lutheran Church, Charles and Hill streets.

A greeting from the congregation and the clergyman's immediate family was brought by a son, the Rev. L. Crosby Deaton, assistant pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Philadelphia, who was ordained at Christ Church two weeks ago last night.

The Rev. Dr. J. Frank Fife, president of the Maryland Synod of the church, brought the compliments and good wishes of Lutherans of Maryland.

Gives Certificate

Governor McKeldin, presenting congratulations for the people of the State, gave Dr. Deaton a certificate of appreciation of his services to the church and the community and young Mr. Deaton a copy of the Bible on which the Governor took his oath of office.

Julius G. Hlubb, chairman of the anniversary committee, presented Dr. Deaton with a book of 100 testimonial letters from leaders in the city and State of all denominations. He also gave the clergyman a gold key to a new automobile, donated by the congregation.

Following the service Dr. Deaton's wife another son, Hugo, who is studying medicine at Columbia University, and a daughter, Barbara Jane, a student at Swarthmore College, joined the congregation in a party in the church's assembly room where Dr. Deaton cut a large anniversary cake.

In opening the speaking program, young Mr. Deaton said that when his father took over the pastorate of Christ Church his motto was "I am come among you to serve." He said his father's ministry was not that of one man but of the entire congregation cooperating with him. The congregation, he added, "has a warmth of fellowship that is refreshing."

Dr. Fife noted that Dr. Deaton's influence has become widespread. The church, he said, has the largest staff of any in the Maryland Synod and has given eleven young men to the ministry.

Dr. Fife noted that the church had 1,166 members in 1934 and 1,886 in 1953 despite the movement of many congregations and the creation of many missions in rural sections of the city; that the church budget was $21,093 in 1934 and $48,043 in 1953; that church benevolences totaled $8,268 in 1934 and $24,869 in 1953, and total expenditures were $29,359 in 1934 and $135,284 in 1953.

Sum Of $1,291,629

He said that in 20 years the total sum represented at the church was $1,291,629, which indicates, he added, that Christ Church is an alert, active and generous church.

He recalled that, among other things, Dr. Deaton had been president of the Council of Churches of Maryland and Delaware, a member of the board of the Legal Aid Bureau, a member of the Committee on Christian Higher Education of the Lutheran Church, a member of the United Lutheran Church Committee on Church Architecture and a delegate seven times to the United Lutheran Church annual convention.

Replying to the tributes, Dr. Deaton promised his congregation and admirers that in the near future they will have "a marvelous new church" for which "a tremendous sum" already has been raised.

Although Dr. Deaton did not mention a figure, leaders of the congregation later said more than $300,000 already has been raised for the new church building fund.

Dr. Deaton, however, emphasized the money was realized without pledges or a high pressure campaign but "just by generous giving" of the congregation.

Censors Expect Legal Definition

'immoral' in their statute by so defining it that they believe it will meet the Supreme Court's approval," he said.

The brief order handed down by the Supreme Court on January 18 was thought by some authorities to have outlawed "immoral" as a ground for banning a motion picture.

"Vagueness" Of Works

Mr. Traub said last night:

"The secondary issue argued was whether the words 'harmful' and 'immoral' in the Ohio and New York statutes, respectively, were so vague and indefinite as to be unconstitutional.

"The implication of the Supreme Court's one-line mandate, using as its basis the 'Miracle' case, is that 'harmful' and 'immoral' are too general and indefinite terms to be constitutional in their application to the banning of a film.

"The attorney general of Maryland feels that this is likewise true of the provision in our statute that requires the board to ban films that 'incite to crime.'

"If this category cannot be legally applied to crime and narcotic pictures, then it remains to be seen how we can cope with them."

Mr. Traub said that if the Legislature does not "spell out" the State censorship code "the Supreme Court may ultimately knock down other, and possibly all, undefined categories in our statute."

"Crime And Narcotic Pictures"

At present, only the words "indecent" and "obscene" remain in the statute unchallenged either by the Baltimore City Court or the United States Supreme Court.

A bill now before the Legislature seeks to make the Maryland Court of Appeals, rather than the City Court, the court of last resort in censorship appeals, either by the board or the exhibitors.

Not All Producers Sign Code

Mr. Traub said last night that those who argued that the Hollywood prodction code administered by the Breen Office is sufficient protection, argued against the fact that more than half the pictures made in the United States and in Europe come from independent producers who are not signatory parties to the code.

They therefore, he said, "produce films that frequently cross the border line of decency and morality."

"In addition," he said, "there has been a trend on the part of certain Hollywood subscribers to the production code either to ignore it or weaken it."

He noted as "a striking example," the movie "The French Line" with which R.K.O. Pictures Corporation "is right now defying the production code."

book lay on the floor of the dining room of her home behind the store. Both the store and some of the rooms of her home were in a shambles when she was found.

Shelves of the store had been overturned and display cases had been ransacked.

But later, in a routine check of the premises, police turned up as much as $1,800 in cash and $900 in Government bonds in the house, cached away in china pots, in furniture and under bric-a-brac.

How much her assailant had removed remained a matter for conjecture.

Police noted evidence of a violent struggle when they reached the Honeyman store the Sunday morning after its proprietor told a customer she was closing early because of "all the robberies recently."

Her face was bruised all over, her neck bore marks of the choking Dr. Russell S. Fisher, chief medical examiner, said killed her and there were blood stains on the counter and on the floor.

Miss Honeyman had operated the store for twenty years or more.

ORGANIST DIES AT AGE OF 39

Richard V. Ross Was Head Of Peabody Department

called them into his study for a brief prayer service.

Mr. Ross first took piano lessons in his native Xenia, Ohio at the age of 6, and was a professional pianist within four years.

At 10, he was called a child prodigy and at 12 began an extensive study of the instrument which was to become his life.

He was first violinist in the Central High School orchestra, having taught himself the instrument in order to play with that group, which already had two pianists.

While still in high school, he became organist of the First Presbyterian Church, in Xenia, his first position and one he held until coming to Baltimore at the age of 19 on a scholarship to the Peabody Conservatory.

This he won on a second try. Failing in competition for a scholarship in piano, he returned the next day, this time at the organ, and was successful.

Appointed To Church

In 1934, during his third year in the conservatory, he was appointed organist and choirmaster of the Church of the Holy Nativity, where he sang tenor in the choir.

The artist's diploma in organ, highest honor awarded to a graduate, was given him by the Peabody in 1937. Mr. Ross was the ninth to receive that distinction in the school's history.

Following graduation, the musician received a year's leave of absence from Holy Nativity for graduate study in Paris under M. Joseph Bonnet, the French concert organist.

Others among his instructors well known in their fields include: Louis Robert, at Peabody; Charles Courboin, the Belgian, in Philadelphia; T. Tertius Noble, contemporary composer of church music, in New York—all in organ.

Studied With Strube

Also, he studied composition with the late Gustav Strube, at the Peabody and with Leo Sowerby, in Chicago.

When war broke out in Europe, the young organist returned to New York where he played at St. Thomas Church, an interlude followed by two years in churches, universities and ballrooms from Hollywood to Portland, Maine.

In 1941, he appeared as soloist before the national convention of the American Guild of Organists, a quick succession to a recital in the Washington National Cathedral.

Entered Army

Entering the Army the following year, he became Sergeant Ross, chaplain's assistant, a capacity in which he gained wide acquaintance with blackouts and a three-year period which he shrugged off, saying, "drove all over Europe in the dark."

He was able to continue his musical activities while in the service and while stationed in certized widely throughout southern Germany and Bavaria.

At war's end, he returned to Baltimore as a member of the faculty at Peabody, and the same year, 1945, succeeded Virgil Fox, now organist of New York's Riverside Church, at Brown Memorial.

At home, Mr. Ross inaugurated a monthly series of organ recitals at Brown Memorial, bringing to Baltimore such world-renowned artists as the Belgian, Flor Peeters, and the Frenchman, Jean Langlais.

Under his leadership, choral works at the church gained such city-wide recognition that the director established a second group, the 35-voice Brown Memorial choir continuing its periodic presentation of oratories, the new and larger chorus performing major vocal compositions.

Drawing to it soloists, organists and choir directors of other local churches and students of the Peabody, the chorus offered a Bach Festival in 1952 which became an annual event in the city. The major work on that occasion was the "St. Matthew Passion," with organ and orchestra.

Notice of the group's success came last year when Massimo Freccia asked Mr. Ross to train 115 singers for presentation of the Verdi "Requiem" with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra. At that time, the musician was organist with the orchestra.

In addition to recitals in the world's cathedrals and on the concert stage, Mr. Ross has appeared on programs of the British Broadcasting Company, in London, and was the first American organist to be included in an international series of recordings by a radio network in northwest Germany.

Stewart Praises Him

Reginald Stewart, director of the Peabody, said: "Mr. Ross's sudden death is a shattering blow to us at the conservatory, where he was a beloved teacher and an ideal colleague. It will be a difficult task for me to replace this valued artist."

Dr. Speers will conduct funeral services in this church at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Burial will be in Druid Ridge Cemetery.

Besides Mrs. O'Connor, Mr. Ross is survived by his mother, Mrs. Marion Ross; a brother, Robert Ross, both of Washington, and another sister, Mrs. Hugh J. Lee, of Ridgewood, N.J.

2 Missing Boys' Bodies Are Found

Washington, Feb. 7 (AP)—The bodies of two of three Prince Georges county youths lost while hunting on the Potomac last December were found over the week end on the Virginia shore near Dahlgren.

The body of Richard Ryon, 17, of Camp Springs, Md., was found Saturday afternoon by a Dahlgren resident walking in the area.

A search begun immediately by King George county sheriff J. S. Isaman turned up the body of 18-year-old Merle Folsom, of Clinton, Md., this morning. It was found 2 miles upstream from where Ryon's body was located.

Search is still under way for the body of Alton P. Burgess, 17, of Camp Springs, third member of the party.

He is survived by a son, Robert M. Goldman; two daughters, Mrs. Nancy Glaser and Mrs. Sue Baking; and a sister, Mrs. Adele Weil, of Cleveland, Ohio.

Funeral services will be held at 11 A.M. today at the home at 3812 Fords lane. Burial will be in the Baltimore Hebrew Congregation Cemetery.

second-hand-car dealer on East Fayette street, purchase price unknown. Same date, sold to a soldier in Fort Meade for $595, with $200 down payment.

June 12, 1952—Repossessed by dealer by assignment of title after the soldier paid $150.

June 16, 1952—Sold again to a man on East Chase street for $595 (the same price the soldier had paid). New buyer paid $200 down and signed conditional-sales agreement for the $395 balance.

February 25, 1953—Dealer repossessed title after the second buyer had paid $450 in installments.

March 3, 1953—Sold again, this time for $495, to a woman living on Ann street. Down payment of $150, with $345 lien in favor of the dealer.

Repossessed In May, 1953

May 23, 1953—Repossessed by dealer by assignment of title. Paid-in installments, $160.

July 4, 1953—Sold to a man in Anne Arundel county for $445, with $160 down and a lien for $285.

December 22, 1953 — Repossessed after dealer collected $160 in monthly installments.

December 31, 1953—Sold to the man on East Baltimore street for $325—$100 down and the $225 balance in monthly payments, secured by a lien under a conditional-sales contract.

An Exceptional Case

For a single car, this is an exceptional case. But repossessions, with consequent loss to buyers and profits to sellers, occur at the rate of more than twenty a day in Maryland.

Some dealers are encouraging prospective car buyers to overextend their credit. Many of them advertise "no down payment." Credit ratings of purchasers are rarely checked. Anybody can buy a used car on credit.

Last year, eleven finance companies in Baltimore repossessed 5,660 cars, at an average gain—to themselves and to the car dealers they serve—of $900 a car.

It is profitable to the used-car dealer if his customers pay their bills. It is even more profitable if they don't pay them.

Greek-American Club, Thomas Indorse Byrd

The Greek American Civic Club has announced its indorsement of Dr. H. C. Byrd as Democratic candidate for Governor. The club gave a luncheon for Dr. Byrd last Tuesday.

Basil A. Thomas, chairman of the club's executive board, and former administrative assistant to Mayor D'Alesandro, announced his support of Dr. Byrd.

Car Dealers Have Code Of Ethics

and swindles sometimes perpetuated on used-car buyers by unscrupulous dealers.

5. Not to charge unfair and exhorbitant rates for financing cars bought from us.

6. To guarantee every car we sell to be as represented—and in the event we have a complaint which we may not be able to settle to the complete satisfaction of our customer, to adjust such complaint through the public relations committee of the association.

Members Policed

Mr. Miller said the association polices its members, and any firm that is discovered violating any provisions of this code is forced to surrender its membership.

The dealers who hold membership in the association display as an emblem a four-leaf clover encircled by the name, Associated Used Car Dealers, Inc.

The Manufacturers Life's 67th Annual Report reveals that during 1953 alone the benefits paid to policyholders and the families of those who died reached a record total of $30,179,781. Assets of the Company also passed the ½ billion figure during the year and now total $540,282,970. A record volume of $245,143,512 of new insurance was purchased by over 39,000 clients in 1953. Pastor Returns From Amsterdam Hopeful But With Apprehension

Recently returned from the first general assembly of the World Council of Churches at Amsterdam, the Rev. Dr. John L. Deaton, pastor of the Christ English Lutheran Church, said yesterday that he reached American shores with mixed feelings of gratitude, hope, and apprehension.

He was grateful, Dr. Deaton said, that there was an America to come back to; hopeful that a first step in world church co-operation has been taken, and apprehensive as to what America may be when it is as old as Europe is today.

Attended Amsterdam Sessions

During a six-week tour, Dr. Deaton visited Scotland, England, France, Holland, Switzerland and Germany. The clergyman, who is president of the Council of Churches and Christian Education of Maryland-Delaware, Inc., attended the assembly meetings in Amsterdam as an accredited visitor.

"Europe is sick and one leaves it with a feeling of depression," Dr. Deaton said. "However, there is hope in the new sense of companionship and of unity within diversity which developed with the exchange of thought and ideals of representatives of 150 branches of the church from 42 countries."

Communism And Capitalism

Pointing out that the World Council was the first of its kind in the history of Protestantism, Dr. Deaton said that it was not to be expected that common agreement should be reached at once upon the solution of the world's problems.

"For instance, there are some even among the clergy who believe there is a direct cleavance between extreme communism in the East and extreme capitalism in the West," Dr. Deaton said.

"For myself, I ask where in the world today will you find extreme capitalism? Surely not in Great Britain or in the Scandinavian country. And surely not even in the United States, where we have social security laws, pensions and other Government benefits to the people."

Dr. Deaton said he did not agree with many he met in Europe who felt that a shooting war between the United States and Russia is inevitable.

"Not For Good Of Either"

"I feel that there is no disagreement which cannot and will not be resolved," the clergyman said. "War would not be for the good of either nation, and I cannot believe that Russian leaders can be so stupid as to lose all that has been gained by precipitating another armed conflict. Russia would suffer irreparably and our own losses would be equally great."

Dr. Deaton said many individuals in Europe outside the representatives in the World Council of Churches have accepted the Soviet line that America is governed by Wall Street.

"The propaganda line follows the Hitler formula in believing that if you tell a big enough lie often enough, people will come to believe it," the minister explained.

Form Of Warning

"One function performed by the council was a form of warning to the church not to tie itself to any one ideology or way of life," Dr. Deaton added.

Church leaders in Germany have a feeling of humility and penitence, Dr. Deaton said, but the people as a whole do not share those feelings.

"They seem to feel that the United States is more generous to them than the other occupying powers, but they tend to misinterpret this as a sign of weakness and inefficiency," the clergyman added.

Less Respect For Lenient

"They are so accustomed to a rigid discipline that they cannot understand any other regime and are apt to feel less respect for the lenient and for those who try to restore them to self-government."

Dr. Deaton, with other visitors of the assembly, saw the festival which marked the abdication of the now Dowager Queen Wilhelmina and the ascension of Queen Juliana to the throne of the Netherlands.

"The pageant which dramatized the history of the Netherlands was one of the finest spectacles I have ever seen," Dr. Deaton added, "but I saw nothing in it that gave any recognition to the Allies for their part in the liberation of Holland from the Nazi conquerors."

The Baltimore churchman said the World Congress gave promise of effectiveness in the future by the very fact that it did not attempt to establish a "super church," but sought to become an agency through which all churches might co-operate with youth and the laity as active participants.

Liquor Men Have Maryland "By The Throat," Minister Says

The Rev. Dr. J. L. Deaton, In Sermon, Cites Disorders Near Church—O'Conor To Order Probe

generation now growing up has a proper environment in which to live."

Elaborating later on this portion of his sermon, Dr. Deaton said:

"The church has never before been to the Liquor Board to make a test until this past year. Then we protested against a beer-and-wine license for a restaurant next door to the church and a beer-and-wine license for a restaurant at Light and Hill streets, a half square from the church, and for a beer-and-wine license to a political club about six doors from the church, on Hill street.

"The city Board of Liquor Commissioners upheld all those protests, but just recently the church objected to the disturbance from the saloons in that neighborhood. Five saloons are in the proximity of the church. The saloons were losed for only one day—Sunday.

Tells Of Incidents

"A man and his wife and his daughter, members of the church, were almost knocked down when they passed one of these saloons as a drunken woman was being thrown out of the door.

"One Sunday a free-for-all fight took place at Charles and Hill streets, with men and women resisting three or four policemen who were trying to arrest them.

"On another occasion during the last year a drunken man coming from one of these saloons smashed a leaded glass window in the parish house and was apprehended by the policeman on the beat.

"We're demanding only our Constitutional rights for a responsible religious group which is one of the largest Protestant churches in the State of Maryland to carry on its work and worship without interference and without intimidation of the people as they approach or leave the church."

Average Of 2,000 Attend

The average attendance at the church is more than 2,000 a Sunday, and sometimes as high as 3,000, including Sunday school and all services. The services are also broadcast to an even larger audience.

"The church has been in that locality for fifty-five years and until the past few years our rights have been respected.

"We went on the basis of not interfering with other people's business, but now a group of saloon keepers have come into the community who have no respect for the rights of God or man."

Governor O'Conor's statement on the matter follows in full:

"I am in thorough agreement with the Rev. Dr. Deaton as to the necessity of maintaining law and order in all sections of the city and State and particularly near places of religious worship.

"As a matter of fact I have been in correspondence with Dr. Deaton, whom I consider one of our most substantial citizens, and I believe that conditions near his church are sadly in need of improvement.

Expressed Satisfaction

"When I learned of the action of the Baltimore City Liquor Board, appointed by me, which action required the closing of these taverns on Sunday morning, I was highly gratified.

"I so notified Dr. Deaton and I expressed satisfaction with the action of the Liquor Board, believing, as I did, that the conditions warranted their closing on Sunday morning.

"However, I have been notified that a recent court decision held that the Baltimore City Board had no authority to impose such conditions. Of course, neither the local board nor I make the laws. Our duty is to enforce them. And the proper remedy is to the Legislature.

"In that connection, I might call attention to the fact that I have been in favor of imposing conditions regarding Sunday closing and so stated in my inaugural address.

"Regarding the assertion that a former law partner of mine was the attorney in one of the cases, I must state that this could not be so, because I never have had a law partner.

"I have no personal knowledge of the specific cases to which Dr. Deaton refers, but I will order the Baltimore City Liquor Board to make a review of the granting of licenses in order to see if any of them have violated the terms under which the licenses were granted. If it is found that any of them have violated these conditions then I think the licenses ought to be revoked, if the law gives the Baltimore City Board the right to do so.

"I repeat that I am in entire sympathy with the Rev. Dr. Deaton and his congregation and I stand ready to do everything I can within the limits of my authority to see that law and order are maintained."

Trying To Cooperate

Doctor Valentini said the board has been trying its utmost to cooperate with Dr. Deaton "in clearing up a bad situation."

"Dr. Deaton has explained in his sermon and statement that the Liquor Board has upheld his three protests against taverns near the church," Dr. Valentini said.

"As a matter of record, our board has not granted a single license—not even one — against which Dr. Deaton and his congregation have protested. The five places to which he refers in the vicinity of his church were licensed before our board took office.

"And, as a matter of record, our board, trying to cooperate with Dr. Deaton, has gone so far as to deny licenses for places far down on Charles street and on Hamburg street, blocks from the church.

Tells Of Instances

"In one instance, acting on specific charges against a tavern—and the board must have specific charges—we took away the Sunday selling privileges of one place. In another instance we accepted voluntary restraint where the proprietor himself offered not to open before 2 P. M. on Sundays and not to sell package goods after Saturday midnight.

"Our board has never issued a new license for a place in the vicinity of the church when Dr. Deaton has protested.

"Here is the actual story: We had closed the five places in question on Sundays. They were closed on our board's order one Sunday during the period when we were trying to restrain selling activities of taverns on Pennsylvania avenue.

Acted Without Charges

"We closed those five places, although we had no specific charges against them, and specific charges are hard to get. Then the courts, acting on the Pennsylvania avenue ruling, said our board had no right under law to restrict hours.

"It is easy to see that the board was doing its very best to coperate with Dr. Deaton and his congregation by closing those places. But, the board must abide by the ruling of the courts which overruled the board. It seems, therefore, that Dr. Deaton's argument is against the law and not against the board.

"Dr. Deaton never has presented any specific charges against any specific tavern to the board. But, if he does—and the board has so told him—the board will act immediately.

"But we frequently rule against taverns only to be overruled by the State Board, which, among other things, has itself ignored or violated its own rule against the distance between a tavern and a church or school.

"Our board has the greatest respect for Dr. Deaton, a very sincere man, but the board cannot remake the law. It is on the books and we must abide not only by the law but by decisions of the court that overrules decisions which the board makes in favor of Dr. Deaton and his congregation."

with a control center that would be a credit to a much larger city.

The district office of the United States Employment Service does show concern over the shortage of farm labor. So far the Shore has been lucky, you are told.

The first of its truck crops, strawberries, was short. But this year's yields of beans and tomatoes are expected to be larger than last year's. The beans are beginning to come in now.

Migrant labor is reported available in Florida. The trouble is getting it to the Eastern Shore in face of gasoline and tire difficulties. If it doesn't get there, and if efforts to import Negro help from Baltimore are not successful, the farmers might ask Boy Scouts to help pick beans, under supervision.

Too Many Problems

The farmers don't think much of the idea of drawing on towns and cities for high-school and college students, or of employing women. That involves too many problems of transportation and housing.

Even in the dim-out area, down around Ocean City, life follows a fairly normal peacetime trend. All waterfront lights are masked or shaded. The boardwalk isn't exactly festive. But it isn't blacked out. Behind screens and curtains, the stores, concessions and night clubs of the resort operate as usual.

Some of Ocean City's hotel proprietors, real estate agents and businessmen think they will suffer this summer as much from bad publicity as from transportation difficulties.

Bad Publicity

Under the heading of bad publicity they list reports that the sound of exploding depth bombs has been heard in Ocean City; that bodies have "floated" ashore from vessels sunk by submarines; that the beach is coated with oil; that fishing will be restricted this summer; that the hotels will be taken over by the army.

Nobody really knows whether they have heard depth bombs or not, you are told. The bodies that "floated" ashore actually were brought in by the Coast Guard from a point thirteen miles below Ocean City. The beach is not covered with oil. (Look at it!). You can fish all you want to. And the hotels have not been taken over by the army.

The townsfolk turn out with considerable enthusiasm to rehearse blackouts. In the rural sections of Worcester county, where airplane spotters' reports have added a new element of excitement to party telephone lines, civilian defense activities are conducted with grim seriousness.

But the scene is one of peace, not war. And the spirit of the Shore, on its surface, as compared with that of many West Coast areas bordering the Pacific, is far from martial.

Gontrum Gives Details Of War-Damage Plan

John B. Gontrum, State Insurance Commissioner, yesterday announced details of a plan under which property owners may obtain temporary war-damage insurance protection after the June 30 expiration date of blanket coverage voted by Congress.

Gontrum said he had been informed by W. L. Clayton, president of the War Damage Corporation, that property owners may obtain binders which will be valid until policies are issued, and no longer than July 31. The binders may be obtained from local insurance agents. The temporary agreements must be postmarked or in the hands of agents not later than midnight June 30.

The War Damage Corporation expects to be ready for issuance of policies during the next month.

To Be Installed Pastor Of Lutheran Church Here

THE REV. JOHN L. DEATON

PLANS COMPLETED TO INSTALL PASTOR

Rev. John L. Deaton To Take Charge Of Christ Lutheran Church February 4

PROGRAM IS OUTLINED

Dr. L. M. Zimmerman And Dr. J. Edward Harms To Take Part In Ceremony

The Rev. John L. Deaton, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Advocate, Germantown, Pa., for the last ten years, will be installed February 4 as the third pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, Hill street, near Charles street.

Mr. Deaton will succeed the Rev. Oscar F. Blackwelder, who resigned last fall to accept the pastorate of the Lutheran Church of the Reformation, at Washington.

At exercises marking the forty-sixth anniversary of Christ Church, December 17, the congregation unanimously extended a call to Mr. Deaton to become pastor.

To Present Charges

The Rev. Dr. L. M. Zimmerman, founder and pastor emeritus of the church, who has been preaching each Sunday since Dr. Blackwelder left, will present the charge to the congregation, and Dr. J. Edward Harms, of Hagerstown, president of the Maryland Synod, will present the charge to the pastor.

Mr. Deaton is a son of a Lutheran minister. He spent most of the early years of his life at Hickory, N. C., where for twenty years his father was pastor of Bethany Lutheran Church. He was graduated with honors from Lenoir College, Hickory, N. C.

His theological training was received at the Philadelphia Seminary, from which, in 1918 he received the degree of bachelor of divinity. While pastor at Germantown he took post-graduate work.

Mr. Deaton began his ministry at Wyomissing, Pa., a suburb of Reading. In the five years he served the church it grew from a mission of twenty-eight members to a self-sustaining congregation numbering 400. A $100,000 church building was erected there when he was pastor.

Celebrated Anniversary

In 1924 he became pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Advocate, and celebrated the tenth anniversary of his pastorate last Sunday. In that period the church has tripled in membership.

In the last two years, in addition to raising its budget one hundred per cent. without any reductions, $15,000 has been accumulated as a building fund.

Mr. Deaton married Miss Isabel B. Berger, of Schuylkill Haven, Pa., and they have two sons, Crosby and Hugo.

judgment, for, to date, I've been right about this.

"I think I'm right now. What we need is more public works, more civil works. This is no time to taper off. When I fought for a big public-works program I said it was needed to prime the pumps of recovery, that it would prime the pump and increase the velocity of money in circulation, increase trade. And I was right, as developments under the PWA and the CWA have shown.

Would Boost Taxes

"Of course, the budgetary angle will be raised. But we cannot afford to consider it too much. As I see it, this is a question of saving the economic system under which we live. We can meet the problem of financing the CWA through proper utilization of our tax mechanism. We cannot, of course, hope to collect in any one year enough to cover all emergency expenditures of that year, but, if we make our tax machinery get down and dig we can come so close to it that we shall not endanger the national credit."

By "tax mechanism" he meant, the Senator explained, not only blocking all loopholes in the tax laws and enforcing them to the hilt but also an increase in the tax rates. He did not particularize.

Miss Perkins' Views

Miss Perkins, at her press conference, expressed surprise that the United States Employment Service had been involved in reports of political patronage within the CWA. It is through the service's local agencies that men not on emergency relief lists are registered for and placed on CWA jobs. Miss Perkins said she suspected there had been some political influence at work in the local agencies in certain sections, but that she hadn't thought it serious, because she had received so many complaints from politicians to the effect that they had no influence in the agencies.

Some agency employes have been dismissed, she added, but not solely for succumbing to political blandishments. Other considerations also had been involved in the dismissals.

$250,000 To Chesapeake Group

Mr. Ickes' announcement of the $250,000 loan to the Chesapeake Shore Reconstruction Association was embodied in a report to the effect that $17,541,970 in loans and grants had been allocated for the relief of communities and private citizens victims of hurricanes, fires, drought and earth-

"Local officials must show what th money has been spent for before the get it, and that the expenditures we for the purposes for which the allo ments were made, to avoid any rak offs on materials or exhorbita charges. This procedure also gives a surance to the citizens who will ult mately pay for the projects in tax or through charges for using the that the projects will be built well an economically.

Would Keep Out Graft

"A provision in the bond contrac and grant agreements which all r cipients of allotments must sign giv Administrator Ickes the authority assign an inspector to each job soon as construction is ready to begi In the early days of organizing suc precautions caused certain delays an evoked some criticism, but the pla for checks and safeguards were pr served and protected.

"Many people have said that it wi be humanly impossible to keep gra scandal, waste and chiseling out of th expenditure of $3,300,000,000 for publ works, but PWA has had an opportun ity to set up safeguards that will h of great assistance in accomplishin the end."

CHURCH TO ADJOIN ZION IS PLANNED

Christ Lutheran Committee Considers Moving To Site On Holliday Street.

PASTOR DENIES MERGER

Dr. Hofmann Says Each Congregation Will Preserve Its Own Identity.

Merger or amalgamation of Zion Church, Holliday and Lexington streets, with Christ Lutheran Church is not contemplated, but cooperation of the two churches on the same site, each preserving its identity, has been suggested, according to the Rev. Dr. Julius Hofmann, pastor of Zion Church.

A committee from each church has been named, but only initial steps have been taken. Both churches must vote on the plan before any definite action can be taken.

If such a project is effected it is said that the acquisition of additional property on Holliday street belonging to the city would be needed. The Board of Estimates has authorized R. Walter Graham, City Comptroller, to have the property appraised and to introduce an ordinance authorizing the sale.

To Keep Property Intact.

It is understood that in general the proposed plan contemplates keeping the present buildings of Zion Church intact, but with a church edifice for Christ Church, now on Hill street, near Charles street, erected on the property of Zion Church, adjoining the present edifice on the north side and with an entrance on Holliday street.

The present parish house would be used by both congregations, it is said, if the plan goes into effect.

One Of City's Landmarks.

Zion Church, an independent organization, is one of the landmarks of Baltimore, and its pastor, Dr. Hofmann, has been an outstanding figure in the life of the city for many years.

The old church has stood on its present site for more than one hundred years, although it was rebuilt after a fire in 1839. The present parish house was built in 1914.

DR. DEATON IS HONORED

Large Crowd Helps Mark 25-Year Pastorate

A congregation of nearly 900, three choirs, more than a dozen ministers, Mayor D'Alesandro and former Governor Theodore R. McKeldin honored the 25-year pastorate of the Rev. Dr. John L. Deaton at a suecial service last night at Christ English Lutheran Church.

"We look to our Mayor to help some slum clearance in our neighborhood some day," Dr. Deaton told the congregegation, predicting the future of the big church at South Charles and Hill streets will be "even harder than the past has been."

Members Moving

He cited the move of members of the parish to "the distant suburbs" and the "decline of public transportation on Sundays."

Presented a large basket of currency by the congregation, Dr. Deaton said of the gift: "It's tthe kind of salad any preacher would enjoy."

Among those who preceded him to the pulpit, besides the Mayor and Mr. McKeldin, who said he had "been coming to this church for 45 years," were the Rev. Roy L. Sloop, pastor of Trinity Luthern Church, Newport News, Va., and the Rev. Dr. J. Frank Fife, president of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Maryland.

The text of Mr. McKeldin's address was an answer he said a Washington and Lee University professor gave an old alumnus who noted the examination had not change in 45 years: "The questions don't change—only the answers."

Mr. McKeldin, a mayoralty candidate, reminded the congregation he was not, as the moment, an office-holder.

Dr. Fife said the real testimonial to Dr. Deaton was the size of the congregation, since the service was "competing with Ed Sullivan and Steve Allen."

The 8 P.M. service was followed by a reception for Dr. Deaton in the church's Fellowship Hall.

At the reception, a portrait of the pastor by Leonard M. Bahr was unveiled by his 3-year-old granddaughter, Deborah Deaton.

Dr. Deaton is a member of the Board of Directors of the Council of Churches of Maryland and Delaware, and for three years he served as its president.

The Hickory (N.C.), native is on the board of the Legal Aid Bureau and is active in other community affairs.

HONORED AND PICTURED—The Rev. Dr. John L. Deaton's South Baltimore congregation celebrated his twenty-fifth anniversary as pastor of Christ English Lutheran Church last night. He holds his granddaughter, Deborah, Deaton, 3.

Alumna In Recital

By WELDON WALLACE

An alumna of the Peabody Preparatory Department returned there as a budding artist yesterday to give a piano program for an audience that overflowed the recital hall.

The recitalist, Betty Winn Barnes, is a striking and charming young woman only 17 years old. From the age of 5 to 12 she studied at the Peabody on scholarship with Dorothy Maevers and then won a scholarship to the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia, where she has been ever

Miss Barnes has dexterity. She commands a tone that is firm, clear and of good quality; and her style is most musical.

She demonstrated her attainments in a variety of works, opening with two Bach "Inventions."

Works In Contrast

The Mozart "Sonata in C, Op. 1," was crisp and fresh in sound and precise in rhythm. By contrast, Debussy's "Reflections in the Water," was atmospheric, though the pianist sometimes sacrificed articulation in the laudable aim of creating an impressionist effect.

Hindesmith's "Sonata No. 2" was convincing. It is a stylized work, demanding skill in bringout different individual lines in the whole texture. Miss Barnes accomplished this very neatly.

A. Chopin "Nocturne" was phrased broadly; while in the same composer's "Valse in B Minor," the bass was kept wellubdued in order to give the elody its full value.

Schumann's "Variations on e Name, 'Abegg'," concluded program, and Miss Barnes bued her interpretation with romantic spirit fitting for it. ncores for the extremely ic audience, she fully, a Scarlatti so- the Villa-Lobos

Store Burglary Laid To Man, 28

Accused of ripping through a screen, smashing a window, then chopping a hole through the second floor to get into a Pennsylvania avenue clothing store, a 28-year-old man was held in $3,500 bail yesterday after a hearing in Northwestern Police Court.

Magistrate George L. Russell ordered the defendant, Charles P. Hutchinson, Jr., Negro, of the 1600 block Linden avenue, held for grand jury action after police testified he was apprehended in the store.

Sgt. Earl Dyson told the court Hutchinson was arrested at 2.30 A.M. yesterday after a neighbor's attention was attracted by the noise at the establishment in the 1000 block Pennsylvania avenue.

The policeman testified Hutchinson was wearing a stolen sport coat when he was taken into custody, and had filled his pockets and two shopping bags with merchandise.

HYMN, No. 241—"Christ, Thou Art The Sure Foundation" ..... (by choir)

Christ, Thou art the sure Foundation,
Thou the Head and Cornerstone;
Chosen of the Lord, and precious,
Binding all the Church in one;
Thou Thy Zion's help forever,
And her confidence alone.

To this temple, where we call Thee,
Come, O Lord of Hosts, today!
With Thy wonted loving-kindness
Hear Thy people as they pray;
And Thy fullest benediction
Shed within its walls alway.

Here vouchsafe to all Thy servants
What they ask of Thee to gain,
What they gain from Thee forever
With the blessed to retain,
And hereafter in Thy glory
Evermore with Thee to reign. Amen.

PSALM, No. 24—Domini est terra. (Read Responsively)

THE earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof: the world, and they that dwell therein.

For He hath founded it upon the seas: and established it upon the floods.

Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord: or who shall stand in His holy place?

He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart: who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully.

He shall receive the blessing from the Lord: and righteousness from the God of his salvation.

This is the generation of them that seek Him: that seek thy face, O Jacob.

Lift up your heads, O ye gates, and be ye lift up, ye everlasting doors: and the King of glory shall come in.

Who is this King of glory: The Lord strong and mighty, the Lord mighty in battle.

Lift up your heads, O ye gates, even lift them up, ye everlasting doors: and the King of glory shall come in.

Who is this King of glory: The Lord of hosts, He is the King of glory.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost: As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen. Hallelujah.

For there are set thrones of judgment: the thrones of the house of David.

Pray for the peace of Jerusalem: they shall prosper that love thee.

Peace be within thy walls: and prosperity within thy palaces.

For my brethren and companions' sakes: I will now say, Peace be within thee.

God Himself is present:
Let us now adore Him,
And with awe appear before Him.
God is in His temple

Prostrate lie with deepest reverence.
Him alone God we own,
Him, our God and Saviour;
Praise His Name forever.

God Himself is present:
Hear the harps resounding!
See the crowds the throne surrounding!
"Holy, Holy, Holy,"
Hear the hymn ascending,
Angels, saints, their voices blending!
Bow Thine ear
To us here:
Hear, O Christ, the praises
That Thy Church now raises.

O Thou Fount of blessing,
Purify my spirit;
Trusting only in Thy merit.
Like the holy angels
Who behold Thy glory,
May I ceaselessly adore Thee.
Let Thy will

As the hosts celestial. Amen.

Collect

Epistle: Revelation 21:1-5

Gospel: John 2:13-17

Nicene Creed:

I believe in one God, the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth, And of all things visible and invisible.

And in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only-begotten Son of God, Begotten of His Father before all worlds, God of God, Light of Light, Very God of very God, Begotten, not made, Being of one substance with the Father, By Whom all things were made; Who, for us men, and for our salvation, came down from heaven, And was incarnate by the Holy Ghost of the Virgin Mary, And was made man; And was crucified also for us under Pontius Pilate. He suffered and was buried; and the third day He rose again, according to the Scriptures; And ascended into heaven, And sitteth on the right hand of the Father; And He shall come again with glory to judge both the quick and the dead; Whose kingdom shall have no end.

And I believe in the Holy Ghost, The Lord and Giver of Life, Who proceedeth from the Father and the Son, Who with the Father and the Son together is worshipped and glorified, Who spake by the Prophets. And I believe one holy Christian and Apostolic Church. I acknowledge one Baptism for the remission of sins; And I look for the Resurrection of the dead; And the Life of the world to come. Amen.

Announcement of the Memorials

Hymn, No. 281—"Thee We Adore, Eternal Lord!"

Thee we adore, Eternal Lord!
We praise Thy name with one accord.
Thy saints, who here Thy goodness see,
Through all the world do worship Thee.

To Thee aloud all angels cry,
The heavens and all the powers on high;
Thee, Holy, Holy, Holy King,
Lord God of Hosts, they ever sing.

The apostles join the glorious throng;
The prophets swell the immortal song;
The martyrs' noble army raise
Eternal anthems to Thy praise.

From day to day, O Lord, do we
Highly exalt and honor Thee!
Thy Name we worship and adore,
World without end, for evermore!

Vouchsafe, O Lord, we humbly pray,
To keep us safe from sin this day;
Have mercy, Lord! we trust in Thee;
O, let us ne'er confounded be! Amen.

So that all I hear may be
Fruitful unto life in me.

Gracious God, I come before Thee,
Come Thou also down to me;
Where we find Thee and adore Thee,
There a heaven on earth must be.
To my heart O enter Thou,
Let it be Thy temple now.

Thou my faith increase and quicken
Let me keep Thy gift divine;
Howso'er temptations thicken,
May Thy Word still o'er me shine,
As my pole-star through my life,
As my comfort in my strife.

Speak, O God, and I will hear Thee,
Let Thy will be done indeed;
May I undisturbed draw near Thee
While Thou dost Thy people feed.
Here of life the fountain flows,
Here is balm for all our woes. Amen.

ANTHEM—"The King's Highway" ..... Williams

"I know not where the road will lead, I follow day by day, Or where it ends: I only know I walk the King's Highway. I know not if the way is long, And no one else can say; But rough or smooth, up hill or down, I walk the King's Highway. And some I love have reached the end, But some with me may stay, Their faith and hope still guiding me, I walk the King's Highway. The way is truth, the way is love, For light and strength I pray, And through the years of life, to God, I walk the King's Highway. The countless hosts lead on before, I must not fear nor stray: With them the pilgrims of all creeds, I walk the King's Highway. Through light and dark the road leads on, 'Till dawns the endless day. When I shall know why in this life, I walk the King's Highway."

GOSPEL: John 2:13-17

NICENE CREED:

I believe in one God, the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth, And of all things visible and invisible.

And in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only-begotten Son of God, Begotten of His Father before all worlds, God of God, Light of Light, Very God of very God, Begotten, not made, Being of one substance with the Father, By Whom all things were made; Who, for us men, and for our salvation, came down from heaven, And was incarnate by the Holy Ghost of the Virgin Mary, And was made man; And was crucified also for us under Pontius Pilate. He suffered and was buried; and the third day He rose again, according to the Scriptures; And ascended into heaven, And sitteth on the right hand of the Father; And He shall come again with glory to judge both the quick and the dead; Whose kingdom shall have no end.

And I believe in the Holy Ghost, The Lord and Giver of Life, Who proceedeth from the Father and the Son, Who with the Father and the Son together is worshipped and glorified, Who spake by the Prophets. And I believe one holy Christian and Apostolic Church. I acknowledge one Baptism for the remission of sins; And I look for the Resurrection of the dead; And the Life of the world to come. Amen.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE MEMORIALS

HYMN, No. 199—"I Love Thy Zion, Lord"

I love Thy Zion, Lord,
The house of Thine abode,
The Church our blest Redeemer saved
With His own precious Blood.

I love Thy Church, O God!
Her walls before Thee stand,
Dear as the apple of Thine eye,
And graven on Thy hand.

For her my tears shall fall,
For her my prayers ascend;
To her my cares and toils be given,
Till toils and cares shall end.

Beyond my highest joy
I prize her heavenly ways,
Her sweet communion, solemn vows,
Her hymns of love and praise.

Jesus, Thou Friend divine,
Our Saviour and our King,
Thy hand from every snare and foe
Shall great deliverance bring.

Sure as Thy truth shall last,
To Zion shall be given
The brightest glories earth can yield,
And brighter bliss of heaven. Amen.

HYMN, No. 289—"Praise, My Soul, The King Of Heaven"

Praise, my soul, the King of heaven;
To His feet thy tribute bring;
Ransomed, healed, restored, forgiven,
Who like thee His praise should sing?
Alleluia! Alleluia!
Praise the everlasting King!

Praise Him for His grace and favor
To our fathers in distress;
Praise Him, still the same as ever,
Slow to chide, and swift to bless:
Alleluia! Alleluia!
Glorious in His faithfulness!

Father-like He tends and spares us,
Well our feeble frame He knows;
In His hands He gently bears us,
Rescues us from all our foes:
Alleluia! Alleluia!
Widely as His mercy flows!

Angels in the height adore Him,
Who behold Him face to face;
Sun and moon bow down before Him;

Praise with us the God of grace! Amen.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE MEMORIALS

HYMN, No. 198—"The Church's One Foundation"

The Church's one foundation
Is Jesus Christ, her Lord;
She is His new creation
By water and the Word;
From heaven He came and sought her
To be His holy Bride,
With His own Blood He bought her,
And for her life He died.

Elect from ev'ry nation,
Yet one o'er all the earth,
Her charter of salvation
One Lord, one Faith, one Birth;
One holy Name she blesses,
Partakes one holy Food,
And to one hope she presses,
With ev'ry grace endued.

Though, with a scornful wonder,
Men see her sore oppressed,
By schisms rent asunder,
By heresies distressed;
Yet saints their watch are keeping,
Their cry goes up, "How long?"
And soon the night of weeping
Shall be the morn of song.

'Mid toil and tribulation,
And tumult of her war,
She waits the consummation
Of peace for evermore;
Till, with the vision glorious,
Her longing eyes are blest,
And the great Church victorious
Shall be the Church at rest. Amen.

Now thank we all our God
With heart and hands and voices,
Who wondrous things hath done,
In Whom His world rejoices;
Who, from our mother's arms,
Hath blessed us on our way
With countless gifts of love,
And still is ours today.

O may this bounteous God
Through all our life be near us,
With ever joyful hearts
And blessed peace to cheer us;
And keep us in His grace,
And guide us when perplexed,
And free us from all ills,
In this world and the next.

All praise and thanks to God

PSALM, No. 84—Quam dilecta tabernacula.

How amiable are Thy tabernacles, O Lord of hosts! My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God.

Yea, the sparrow hath found an house, and the swallow a nest for herself, where she may lay her young: even Thine altars, O Lord of hosts, My King and my God.

Blessed are they that dwell in Thy house: they will be still praising Thee.

Blessed is the man whose strength is in Thee: in whose heart are the ways of them.

Who passing through the valley of Baca make it a well: the rain also filleth the pools.

They go from strength to strength: every one of them in Zion appeareth before God.

O Lord God of hosts, hear my prayer: give ear, O God of Jacob.

Behold, O God our Shield: and look upon the face of Thine Anointed.

For a day in Thy courts is better than a thousand: I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God, than to dwell in the tents of wickedness.

For the Lord God is a Sun and Shield: the Lord will give grace and glory;

No good thing will He withhold from them that walk uprightly: O Lord of hosts, blessed is the man that trusteth in Thee.

ANTHEM—"There's A Friend For Little Children" ..... Williams
Chapel Choir

"There's a Friend for little children, Above the bright blue sky, A Friend who never changes, Whose love will never die; Our earthly friends may fail us, And change with changing years, This Friend is always worthy, Of that dear Name he bears. There's a song for little children, Above the bright blue sky, A song that will not weary, Though sung continually; A song which even angels, Can never, never sing; They know not Christ as Saviour, But worship Him as King. There's a crown for little children, Above the bright blue sky, And all who look for Jesus, Shall wear it, by-and-by; All above is treasured, And found in Christ alone: Lord, grant Thy little children, To know Thee as their own."

SECOND LESSON— I Corinthians 3:9-17

GREETINGS

HYMN, No. 197—"Glorious Things Of Thee Are Spoken"

Glorious things of thee are spoken,
Zion, City of our God;
He, Whose word cannot be broken,
Formed thee for His own abode.
On the Rock of Ages founded,
What can shake thy sure repose?
With salvation's walls surrounded,
Thou may'st smile at all thy foes.

See the streams of living waters
Springing from eternal love,
Well supply thy sons and daughters,
And all fear of want remove.
Who can faint while such a river
Ever flows their thirst to assuage,
Grace, which, like the Lord, the Giver,
Never fails from age to age?

Round each habitation hovering,
See the cloud and fire appear
For a glory and a covering,
Showing that the Lord is near;
Thus deriving from their banner
Light by night and shade by day,
Safe they feed upon the manna
Which He gives them when they pray.

Saviour, if of Zion's city
I, through grace, a member am,
Let the world deride or pity,
I will glory in Thy Name.
Fading is the wordling's pleasure,
All his boasted pomp and show;
Solid joys and lasting treasure
None but Zion's children know. Amen.

GREETINGS

ANTHEM—"Gloria In Excelsis" (From 12th Mass) ..... Mozart

"Glorious is thy Name, Almighty Lord, glorious is thy Name, O Lord, all the angels stand round about thy throne; Let all nations bow before thee, and declare thy wondrous works. We praise thee, we give thanks to thee, we adore thee, we glorify thee. Lord, we adore thee, we bless thee; Lord we thank thee for thy great glory. Heav'n is thy throne, and earth is thy footstool. Thou art King over all the world. Glorious is thy Name, O Lord, Blessing and honor be to God, forever more."

OFFERTORY ANTHEM—"The Heavens Are Telling" ..... Haydn

"The heavens are telling the glory of God, The wonder of His work displays the firmament. To day that is coming speaks it the day, The night that is gone to following night. In all the lands resounds the word, never unperceived, ever understood."

HYMN, No. 207—"Jesus, With Thy Church Abide"

Jesus, with Thy Church abide,
Be her Saviour, Lord, and Guide,
While on earth her faith is tried.
We beseech Thee, hear us.

May she one in doctrine be,
One in truth and charity,
Winning all to faith in Thee.
We beseech Thee, hear us.

May she guide the poor and blind,
Seek the lost until she find,
And the broken hearted bind.
We beseech Thee, hear us.

Save her love from growing cold,
Make her watchmen strong and bold,
Fence her round—Thy peaceful fold.
We beseech Thee, hear us.

May her pastors duly feed,
Shepherds of the flock indeed,
Ready at Thy call to lead.
We beseech Thee, hear us.

May they live the truths they know,
And a holy pattern show,
As before Thy flock they go.
We beseech Thee, hear us.

May the grace of Him Who died,
And the Father's love abide,
And the Spirit ever guide.
We beseech Thee, hear us. Amen.

Versicle: Thy testimonies are very sure, Hallelujah!

Response: Holiness becometh Thine House, O Lord, forever. Hallelujah!

CANTICLE: (Read Responsively)

My soul doth magnify the Lord:
And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour.
For He hath regarded:
The low estate of His handmaiden.
For behold, from henceforth:
All generations shall call me blessed.
For He that is mighty hath done to me great things:
And holy is His Name.
And His mercy is on them that fear Him:
From generation to generation.
He hath showed strength with His arm:
He hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.
He hath put down the mighty from their seats:
And exalted them of low degree.
He hath filled the hungry with good things:
And the rich He hath sent empty away.
He hath holpen His servant Israel, in remembrance of His mercy:
As he spake to our father, to Abraham, and to his seed, forever.
Glory be to the Father, and to the Son:
And to the Holy Ghost;
As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be:
World without end. Amen.

PRAYER FOR THE CHURCH

Lord's Prayer

Benedicamus

Versicle: Bless we the Lord.
Response: Thanks be to God.

BENEDICTION

HYMN, No. 195—"A Mighty Fortress Is Our God"

A mighty Fortress is our God,
A trusty Shield and Weapon;
He helps us free from ev'ry need
That hath us now o'er taken.
The old bitter foe
Means us deadly woe;
Deep guile and great might
Are his dread arms in fight:
On earth is not his equal.

With might of ours can naught be done,
Soon were our loss effected;
But for us fights the Valiant One
Whom God Himself elected.
Ask ye, Who is this?
Jesus Christ it is,
Of Sabaoth Lord,
And there's none other God;
He holds the field forever.

Though devils all the world should fill,
All watching to devour us.
We tremble not, we fear no ill,
They cannot overpower us.
This world's prince may still
Scowl fierce as he will;
He can harm us none:
He's judged, the deed is done,
One little word o'erthrows him.

The Word they still shall let remain,
Nor any thanks have for it;
He's by our side upon the plain
With His good gifts and Spirit.
Take they then our life,
Goods, fame, child, and wife,
When their worst is done,
They yet have nothing won:
The kingdom ours remaineth. Amen.

Secondly, we thank the loyal and faithful members of Christ Church for their love, appreciation and support so freely given through these years. No minister ever served a more wonderful congregation.

Thirdly, we thank the Church Council for their recognition of this occasion and the Anniversary Committee and their Assistants for their untiring efforts to make this Anniversary meaningful in the life of our Church.

Fourthly, we pray God that His blessing may rest upon us as we join hands and hearts to do a greater work for Him in the days ahead.

YOUTH FELLOWSHIP—6:45 P.M.

Tonight promises to be an inspiring evening for you. Ralph Welsh will begin our monthly theme of Evangelism by giving us a down-to-earth talk on "Evangelism: Why and For What Purpose." A reading of Matthew 28:19-20 and Romans 10:13-21 will give the background of his talk. Join your friends tonight in the discussion of the importance of evangelism in the lives of young people. Devotions will be led by Kenneth Greif.

HOLY COMMUNION is held on the first Sunday of each month at 8:30 A.M. in our lovely Chapel. What a privilege to receive it on this Sunday which commemorates the Transfiguration of our Lord.

THE UNITED PROTESTANT APPEAL is now being conducted to secure funds to carry on the work of the Council of Churches for another year. This organization renders a notable service in the field of Christian education, welfare work and other areas where Protestants must unite to bear an effective witness. Mr. Robert Pyle is our congregational chairman. He will be in the foyer before and after Services today to receive your contribution. If you gave last year, we hope that you will renew your gift. If you did not give, we urge you to share in this great work, however small your gift may be.

FACTS ABOUT OUR PASTOR

John L. Deaton was born in Selwood, S. C. He is the son of the late Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Deaton of Boone, N. C. Most of his early life was spent in Hickory, N. C., where for twenty years his father was Pastor of Bethany Lutheran Church.

He was graduated with honors from Lenoir Rhyne College, Hickory, N. C., in 1915. He received his theological training in the Philadelphia Seminary and was ordained on May 22, 1918 by the Ministerium of Pennsylvania. In June 1935 he was awarded the degree of Doctor of Divinity by Lenoir Rhyne College.

Pastor Deaton began his ministry in Wyomissing, Pa., a suburb of Reading. Under his leadership, The Church of the Atonement grew from a mission of twenty-eight members to a self sustaining congregation of four hundred members in five years and erected a beautiful Gothic Church at a cost of $100,000.

The Rev. John L. Deaton became Pastor of the Church of the Advocate, Germantown, Philadelphia in 1924. During his ten years there the Church trebled its membership, was led out of debt, and was left one of the most active and flourishing congregations in the Philadelphia area. During this pastorate he married Isabelle Berger of Schuylkill Haven, Pa. To this union was born two sons, L. Crosby, recently ordained to the ministry, Hugo, presently studying medicine at Columbia University, as well as a daughter, Barbara Jane now a freshman at Swarthmore College.

On December 17, 1933, Christ Church at its 46th Anniversary Service voted unanimously to extend a call to Dr. Deaton to become its Pastor. He accepted the call and was installed on Sunday, February 4, 1934. Dr. L. M. Zimmerman, Pastor Emeritus, presented the charge to the congregation and Dr. J. Edward Harms, President of the Maryland Synod, the charge to the Pastor.

Pastor Deaton recognized very early the urgent need of adequate housing of our Bible School. Under his leadership, and with the benefit of his expert knowledge of construction problems, was erected a Parish House, widely recognized as one of the outstanding buildings of its type.

Dr. Deaton is a forceful preacher and has pioneered in the radio ministry. Regular broadcasts of the morning services for the past sixteen years have built up a large radio audience and made him perhaps one of the most widely known preachers in the State.

In addition to the heavy duties involved in ministering to the spiritual needs of a large, widely scattered congregation, Pastor Deaton has been active in seeking to improve moral and social conditions in the community. He has played a leading role in activities of the Temperance League and the Inner Mission Society. He has served as President of the Council of Churches of Maryland and Delaware, and is a member of the Board of the Legal Aid Bureau.

Dr. Deaton served for twelve years as a member of the Board of Education of the United Lutheran Church in America, was President of the Board for eight years. During his incumbency the Committee on Christian Higher Education raised more than seven million dollars for the Colleges and Seminaries of the Lutheran Church. For twenty years he was a member of the United Lutheran Church Committee on Church Architecture. At present he is a member of the Deaconess Board of the United Lutheran Church and of the Board of Trustees of the Deaconess Motherhouse and Training Schools both in Baltimore and Philadelphia.

We have indeed been blessed by our Pastor's ministry and have reason to thank God for the unswerving loyalty to us in the face of the many flattering and attractive calls to other fields which he has received and declined. Truly, it was a great day in the life of our Church that brought and has kept him with us.

The immediate future challenges his tireless energies and diversified abilities, as well as our cooperation in the erection of the long overdue Church edifice that will be worthy of the needs and traditions of "The Church You Can't Forget."

BALTIMORE 30, MD.

Let us give thanks unto the Lord our God

Not everyone is able to give thanks to God. Some people don't have any capacity for gratitude.

In the Bible there is a story about ten men whom Jesus cured of a dreadful illness. Nine of these men, after they had been cured, went straight home. They were intensely happy, no doubt, but they gave no evidence of gratitude. Only one of the ten went back to thank Jesus for the miracle.

Some of the unthankful people are those who specialize in thinking about their troubles. They pay no attention to the good things which happen to them, but only to the misfortunes.

Other unthankful people are those who really feel that they themselves are responsible for everything they have. They are "self-made" people, and can't recognize any part which God might have in their success.

Some people give thanks for the wrong things. Jesus told of a man who prayed, "I thank Thee that I am not as other men are." That may be thanks, but it is the selfish kind. We should be as thankful for the happiness and good fortune of others as for our own.

True thanksgiving is possible only for those who are truly religious. It consists in knowing that God is the creator and giver of all good things. We thank Him for the gift of life, for our bodies and souls and all that is ours. We don't wait for Thanksgiving Day to acknowledge His goodness. We thank Him in our prayers every day. In our churches we sing hymns of thanks. In fact, worship consists largely of thanksgiving.

Truly religious people can thank God even in times of dark difficulty. They know even then that He is near, that He strengthens, comforts, and keeps hope alive.

"Thank you" is easy to say. But when we really mean it, we must do more than merely say it. Luther said we should "thank, praise, serve, and obey" God. These belong together. When we realize how much God has given us, we are eager to give thanks not only with our lips but in our lives.

"God Will Take Care Of You"

Be not dismayed what-e'er betide,
God will take care of you;
Beneath His wings of love abide,
God will take care of you.

Thro' days of toil when heart doth fail,
God will take care of you;
When dangers fierce your path assail,
God will take care of you.

All you may need He will provide,
God will take care of you;
Nothing you ask will be denied,
God will take care of you.

No matter what may be the test,
God will take care of you;
Lean, weary one, upon His breast,
God will take care of you.

Chorus: God will take care of you,
Thro' every day, O'er all the way;
He will take care of you,
God will take care of you.

"Fit language there is none for the heart's deepest things."

It was a truly great day in the life of our congregation that brought the Rev. John L. Deaton to us and kept him with us until God's call for him to enter the Church Triumphant superseded our claims upon him. We have indeed been blessed by Dr. Deaton's ministry and have every reason to thank God for our Pastor's unswerving loyalty to us in the face of the many flattering and attractive calls to other fields which he received and declined.

In addition to the heavy duties involved in ministering to the spiritual needs of a large widely scattered congregation, Pastor Deaton was actively engaged in seeking to improve moral and social conditions in the community. He played a leading role in the Inner Mission Society and the Temperance League. He served as President of the Council of Churches of Maryland and Delaware, and was a member of the Board of the Legal Aid Bureau.

Dr. Deaton served for twelve years as a member of the Board of Education of the United Lutheran Church in America, was President of the Board for eight years. During his incumbency the Committee on Christian Higher Education raised more than seven million dollars for the colleges and seminaries of the Lutheran Church. For twenty years he was a member of the United Lutheran Church Committee on Church Architecture. At the time of his death he was President of the Deaconess Board of the United Lutheran Church and a member of the Board of Trustees at the Deaconess Motherhouse and Training Schools in Philadelphia and Baltimore.

Our Pastor was a forceful preacher and pioneered in the radio ministry. Regular broadcasts of our morning services for the past twenty-four years built up a large radio audience and made him one of the most widely known preachers in the area.

Of his accomplishments in these many fields, we are justly proud. But it has been well said that nothing is real unless it exists at the local level.

Here again, Pastor Deaton passed the test with flying colors. He recognized very early the wisdom of giving priority to the need for adequate housing of our Bible School. So, under his leadership the Parish Hall, widely recognized as one of the outstanding buildings of its type, was erected in 1936. Finally, after long years of careful planning and hopes deferred, our beautiful place of worship was dedicated to the Glory of God on May 18, 1958. Our million dollar physical plant itself offers irrefutable evidence of what can be accomplished by devoted people with capable, inspired leadership under God.

But most of all, there abides in the heart of each of us his own fond memories of John L. Deaton as pastor, confessor, teacher, counselor, and friend.

"The Lord has given; the Lord has taken away.
Blessed be the Name of the Lord."

City Churches Invest In New Edifices

The new $1,100,000 Christ English Lutheran built on Hill street is evidence of faith in the downtown area, resisting the congregation trend to move out into suburban districts.

MID-CITY and downtown churches are setting an example in rejuvenation of the city by investing heavily in new edifices, making additions to and modernizing existing structures at big cost.

From the standpoint of distance many of the long-established churches are remote from places of residence of many of their members, who have migrated to the suburbs.

Both On Charles Street

But from a standpoint of travel-time, it's often only a matter of minutes, especially on Sundays and evenings when streets are generally uncluttered, to get to favorite places of worship.

Revolutionary changes in the traffic pattern under way and likely to result from the building of major highways are counted on to facilitate the movement of members in the metropolitan area to the city churches.

Two cases in point have attracted especial interest. For one reason they are on Charles street, about equidistant from the central business district, namely:

Christ English Lutheran Church, which just dedicated its $1,100,000 edifice on Hill street, at Charles, in South Baltimore.

University Baptist Church, at Thirty-fourth and Charles streets, which just broke ground for a $600,000 building to house a chapel, church offices, classrooms and auxiliary facilities.

Before deciding to hold-the-line at the location, Christ Lutheran Church made a comprehensive survey that indicated the best location was the old site. The members accordingly indorsed the proposal

The new Gothic-architecture red brick exterior building harmonizes with the Leander M. Zimmerman Parish Hall, at the southeast corner of Charles and Hill streets, expansion of which provides for enlarged social, recreational and community activities.

Called a metropolitan church in a cosmopolitan setting, University Baptist Church is being supplemented with a $600,000 chapel and a sixteen-classroom educational building treated architecturally to match the edifice that was completed in 1927.

The chapel to seat 162 will be named in memory of Hamilton C. Davis. It is designed for intimate services of worship, and will be open day and night. Classrooms to accom-

There's a full size dining room, a music room, a kitchen featuring "open planning" so that when meals are not being prepared it may be incorporated into the dining area.

Adjoining the kitchen - dining area are a sewing room and a laundry room, while convenient to the food preparing area is a maid's apartment, with private bathroom. There are five bedrooms and three and a half bathrooms available to the family. In the finished basement area are a recreation room and a children's play room.

Electric Kitchen

The kitchen is all-electric. The house is heated by an oil-fired forced warm air heating system, coupled with an air-conditioned unit for summertime comfort. The roof is of the low-pitch type, covered with composition roofing in white to reflect the heat, hold down crawl space temperature to a minimum.

Since both the husband and wife are constantly "on call" they decided to devote space that would ordinarily be used to house two automobiles to the music room. A hard-surfaced parking area adjoins the house, which is on Church lane, a county road in Chestnut Hill Estates being developed by Clarence F. Hoffman. He designed and built the house for Dr. and Mrs. Oscar Camp.

The Camps were among many who inspected a model house in the $40,000-$43 price bracket put up by Mr. Coffin. The plan for it was modified and expanded to provide all of the facilities the owners required for a growing family.

SPOTLIGHT

Honoring God's Business Man

By Neil H. Swanson

THE CLICHES BY WHICH WE LIVE provide neat pigeon holes for people.

Professors are invariably absent-minded. Private detectives have a way with women—at least in the paperbacks. Politicians live on smoke, not oxygen. Newspapermen wear press cards in their hats and cigaret butts pasted to their lower lips.

NEIL SWANSON

And clergymen may know their way around the world to come but, like professors, are sheep for the shearing in the ways of business.

Every now and then, however, comes a man who doesn't know he is a pigeon. He ignores the cliches and disproves them.

We suddenly discover that professors out of quiet classrooms are producing atom bombs and building rocket engines and designing space ships to circumnavigate the sun. We discover that they aren't so absent-minded they forget to press the proper button at the proper moment, and deposit a space capsule in the middle of a target they can't even see.

A Man About God's Business

TWENTY-SIX YEARS AGO, another such man came to Baltimore. His name—John Le Roy Deaton.

He was a clergyman, son of a clergyman. Called to the pastorate of Christ English Lutheran Church, he quietly began to go about God's business.

It was a business in which he had been successfully engaged for quite a while. His ministry had begun in Wyomissing, Pa., with a mission of 28 members. When he left it, five years later, it had a congregation of 400 and a beautiful new Gothic church.

He became pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Advocate in Germantown, Philadelphia, in 1924. In his 10 years there the congregation tripled, a wilderness of debt had been cut away, and the church had the reputation of being the most active and flourishing in Philadelphia. Not even in the midst of the depression was it necessary to reduce its budget.

He Couldn't See the Pigeon Hole

TO THE REV. JOHN DEATON, the old church at Charles and Hill Sts., in downtown South Baltimore, bore no resemblance to a pigeon hole. It had been old when Christ Church bought it, away back in 1888, from another congregation. There were many things it needed, to perform its proper service, and its pastor undertook to get them.

Two and a half years after his arrival, a new parish house was dedicated—and its mortgage was burned four years later.

Then came the problem of a new church. The solution was not easy. Downtown blight was falling upon cities. Members of downtown church congregations were departing for the suburbs. Churches were departing with them.

This may have been good business. But it seemed to John Deaton that it was no part of God's business to abandon a community and hasten the decay of cities.

A Decision That Took Courage

IT WAS A DECISION that took courage. But Christ Lutheran stayed where it was.

To strangers—and to Baltimoreans as well—it comes as an almost stunning surprise to see a $1.5 million church filling half a block among those shabby streets, and hear hymns soaring from its sweet-toned carillon of 16 bells above the roar of traffic.

Thousands of people helped to make it possible. But there seems to be no voice among them to say that it would have been possible at all without the rare executive ability of John Deaton. It was an ability heaped up and running over the other fundamental qualities of a great pastor—deep faith, utter dedication, keen interest in children and young people, sermons that were never dull.

The congregation now is widely scattered. Less than a third of its several thousand, perhaps, still live in South Baltimore. But they come back, Sundays, for the two morning services and the evening service—20-30-50 miles or more. The Sunday school alone enrolls 900.

All that is a memorial to Dr. Deaton, who died last November. But Sunday morning, a plaque by Maryland's distinguished sculptor, Reuben R. Kramer, will be dedicated to his memory. It is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmelz, in loving memory of God's man of business.

2 County High Schools Win Re-Accreditation

The Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools has recommended reaccreditation for Dundalk and Towson Senior High School, Baltimore County.

The action, announced today, came after a team from the regional accrediting group made a formal report based on visits to the schools in February and March to evaluate the program and administration.

Both schools are currently members of the association, with Dundalk being accredited in 1950 and Towson a year later. It is general practice, however, to seek renewals within ten years.

All but one of the county's high schools is accredited by the association. The Dulaney Junior-Senior High School, which just recently opened, has not been in operation long enough to apply for accreditation. Schools must be in session two or three years prior t seeking membership in the as sociation.

All the county's high school are accredited by the Mary land State Department of Edu cation.

The regional association which will vote on renewal for the two schools in Novem ber, evaluated the facilities on the curriculum, subject fields pupil activity programs, schoo library, guidance and health services, the plant, staff and administration.

PRIOR TO the visit by th accreditation team, composed of college professors, teachers administrators and other pro fessional personnel, both school conducted a self evaluate study.

Three other county senio high schools will be reevaluated next year.

the most active and flourishing congregations in the area.

Dr. Deaton accepted the call to Christ Church and was installed February 4, 1934.

He was responsible for building Christ Church parish house, and responsible for reconstructing the 73-year-old church at Charles and Hill streets on the same site for "the congregation felt it had a mission there."

He was a pioneer in radio sermons and conducted regular Sunday morning broadcasts for the last 24 years.

Active In Civic Affairs

He was active in civic affairs and did not hesitate to speak out on issues. He was quick to oppose any proposal for legalized gambling and was wont to urge his congregation to vote.

In 1934, in a sermon entitled "The Christian at the Ballot Box," he said the most monstrous lies told in this country find expression in the weeks preceding an election.

In 1942 he was instrumental in persuading seven taverns in the neighborhood of his church to close on Sundays after he charged that rowdyism in the bars was interfering with worship.

President Of Council

He was active in seeking to improve moral and social conditions in the community, playing a leading role in the activities of the Temperance League and the Inner Mission Society.

He has served as president of the Council of Churches of Maryland and Delaware, was a member of the board of the Legal Aid Bureau and president of the Board of Deaconness Work of the Lutheran Church.

For eight years he was president of the Board of Education of the United Lutheran Church in America, during which more than $7,000,000 was raised for colleges and seminaries of the church.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Isabelle Berger Deaton, of 520 Old Orchard road; two sons, the Rev. L. Crosby Deaton, pastor of Holy Comforter Lutheran Church on York road, and Dr. Hugo L. Deaton, of Durham, N.C., and one daughter, Mrs. William B. Anderson, of Iowa City, Iowa.

Dr. Deaton's body will lie in state from 2 P.M. to 9 P.M. Friday in the church. Funeral services will be held at 11 A.M. Saturday in the sanctuary. The Rev. Dr. J. Frank Fife, president of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Maryland, will officiate.

Dies unexpectedly

DR. DEATON DIES OF HEART ATTACK

Was Pastor Of Christ English Lutheran Church

The Rev. Dr. John L. Deaton, pastor of Christ English Lutheran Church for the last 26 years, died unexpectedly yesterday at Maryland General Hospital.

Dr. Deaton's physician, Dr. M. Paul Byerly, attributed his death to a heart attack. The 66-year-old pastor was scheduled to leave the hospital today. He had been there for the last four weeks.

Born in Selwood, S.C., he spent most of his early life in Hickory, N.C., where for twenty years his father, the late Rev. W. A. Deaton, was pastor of Bethany Lutheran Church.

Ordained In 1918

He was graduated with honors from Lenoir Rhyne College at Hickory. He received his theological training at the Philadelphia Seminary and was ordained in 1918. Seventeen years later he was awarded a doctor of divinity degree by Lenoir Rhyne.

His first charge was a mission of 28 members in a Philadelphia suburb. In five years the mission grew to a self-sustaining congregation of 400 members and built its own church.

He accepted a call to be pastor of the Church of the Advocate in 1924. During his ten years at the Germantown Pa., church, its membership trebled, it was led out of debt and was left one of

Rev. Dr. John L. Deaton

Sir: The death of the Rev. Dr. John L. Deaton, pastor for 26 years of Christ English Lutheran Church, is a great loss, not only to the approximate 10,000 radio audience and almost 2,000 parishioners but to the entire city. Through his preaching and personal service he gave spiritual strength to people of all walks of life in their suffering, their needs and everyday living.

Humble, but fearless and dedicated, he was respected by all who knew him through his many services to his church and other community agencies. He was endowed with many talents, and with the courage to speak for the control of the vices of gambling and liquor.

During his pastorate he directed the building, in a blighted downtown area, of what is called by many the city's most beautiful church of early Gothic architecture.

His own life was an example of one dedicated to God and of a faith in God which never faltered. His ministry has made a contribution to Baltimore for generations to come. The greatest tribute his parishioners can pay him is to practice the preaching and example of his ministry.

Jean Dunwoody.

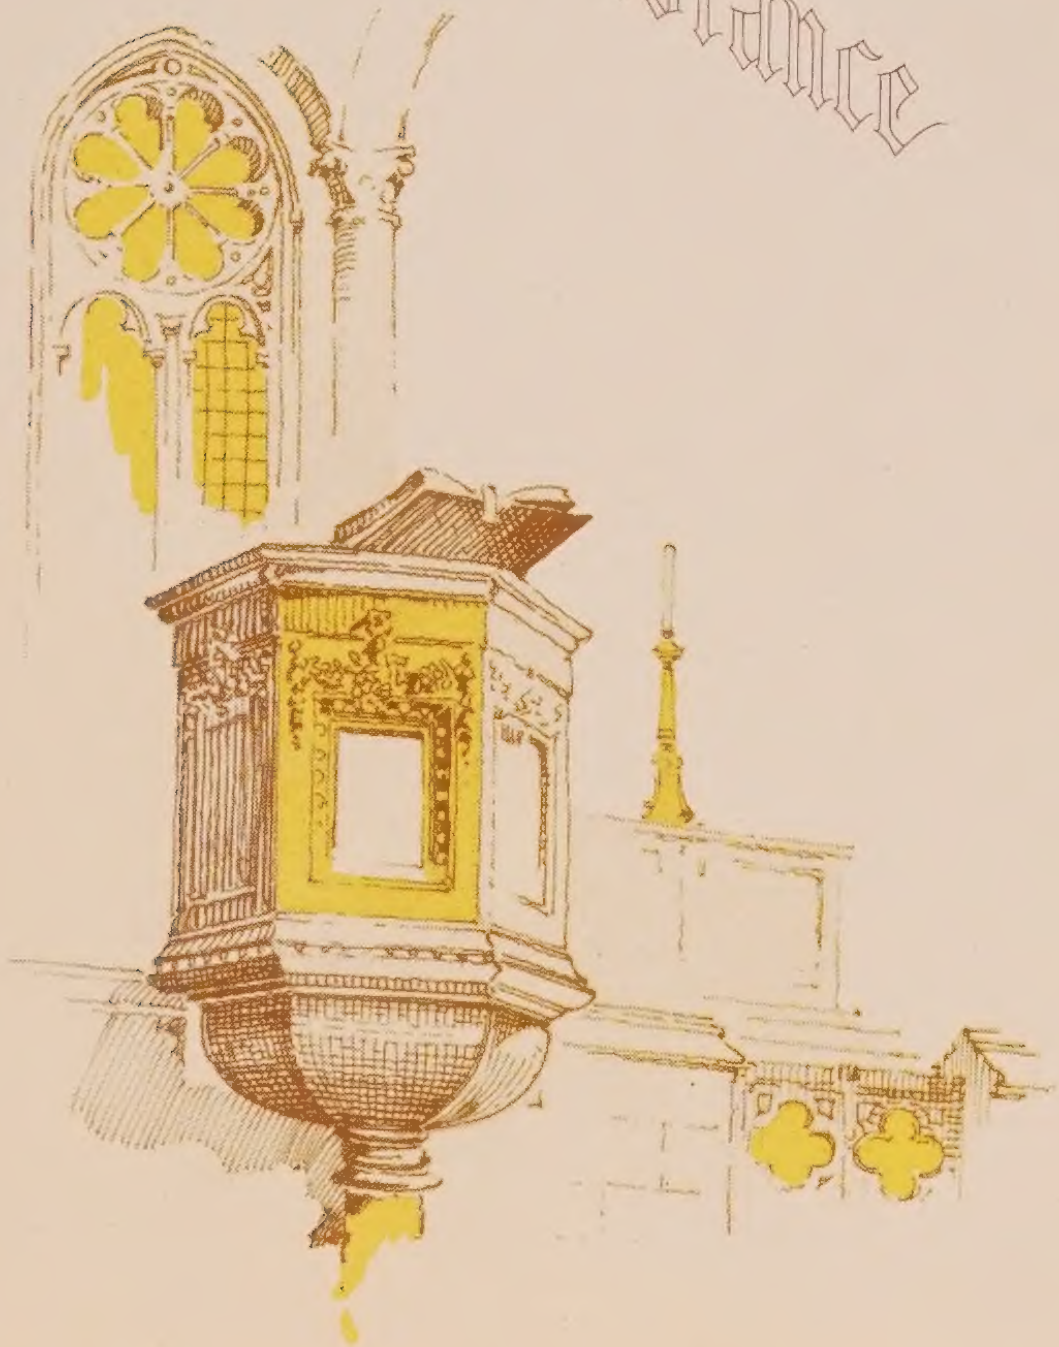
In Remembrance



The Lord is my shepherd: I shall not want.

He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me beside the still waters.

He restoreth my soul He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me

Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies thou anointest my head with oil: my cup runneth over.

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.
